PAINS IN THE BACK, GRAVEL, LUMBAGO, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER, &c.

DR. DE ROOS' COMPOUND RENAL PILLS

ARE celebrated all over the world as the most safe and speedy remedy for the above dangerous complaints, Discharges of any kind. Stone in the Bladder, and Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs generally. Possessing tonic properties, they agree with the most delicate stomach, strengthen the digestive organs, increase the appetite, improve the general health, and in three days will effect a cure when copaiba, cubebs, and all dangerous medicines of that class have utterly failed, is. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., and 33s. per box.

These celebrated Pills are infallible remedy in the most obstinate cases. By their use alone, many thousands are annually restored to health, and the agonies of gout and rheumatism may now be considered a voluntary affliction, as no one need suffer these excruciating torments if they will only have recourse to these Pills, which are confidently recommended by the proprietor as the only known specific ; whilst for weakness, ages, the loins, sandy or other deposit in the water, and in all cases of renal or urinary disturbance, they are indeed unrivalled. They correct acidity of the stomach, relieve the functions of the liver and kidneys, thereby preventing stone in the bladder, &c. Many complaints long supposed to be nervous, often arise solely from contamination of the blood with certain impurities which should have been carried off by the kidneys. Thousands of testimonials from grateful patients attest their marvellous efficacy. In boxes, 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s. & 33s.

THE MOST WONDERFUL PILLS IN THE WORLD.
DR. DE ROOS'
PILULÆ VITÆ, OR VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS.

ALL sufferers from general nervousness, and morbid feelings, low spirits, loss of memory, sleeplessness, harassing dreams, unnecessary fears, mental irritability, failure of the mental and bodily powers, weakness of the nerves, headaches, noises in the head, giddiness, indigestion, and other symptoms of chronic disease, will hail with joy the discovery of Dr. De Roos' Life Pills, which speedily and almost magically remove pain and disease of whatever nature, restore cheerfulness to the spirits, vigour to the body, and strengthen all the organs on which health and life depend. They do not contain a particle of mercury, but are purely vegetable ; and for all affections of the liver, flatulency, bile, sick headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, lowness of spirits, sensation of fulness at the pit of the stomach, pain between the shoulders, and the distress arising from indigestion and general debility they will be found of unexampled efficacy ; and it is no small advantage that they can be taken at any time without danger from wet or cold, or necessity for restraint from business or pleasure. They act mildly on the bowels, without pain or gripping, impart tone to the stomach, promote a healthy action of the liver, thus preventing, or when present, curing the jaundice and dropsy, clearing the skins, removing sallowness and pimples from the blood, tracing the nerves, and marvellously invigorating the whole system. Females of all ages will find them invaluable, and should never be without them. Price 1s, 1½d, 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s. and 33s. per box.

THE MOST ASTOUNDING CURES are daily being effected in cases of Nervousness, General Debility, Impurity of the Blood, Defective Circulation, Languor, La-situde, D pression of Spirits, Indigestion, Pain and Palpitation in the Side, Harassing Dreams, &c., &c., by whose effects are really magical in restoring lost tone to the system (arising from whatever cause), re-invigorating and enlivening the whole corporeal frame, and finally, but effectively, building up the most shattered constitution.

WORLD-FAMED GUTTÆ VITÆ, OR VEGETABLE LIFE DROPS,

Although this truly wonderful recuperative tonic is not put forward as imparting immortality, it is not too much to say that by its means new life is, as it were, imparted to the nervous and debilitated, who were evidently sinking into an early grave ; while to those of mature years and declining health, they restract the close of life. Thousands of apparently hopeless cases given up by the faculty, are now in the enjoyment of health (life's greatest blessing) after having had recourse to the long-absent value of this remarkable medicine. Hundreds of testimonials too numerous to publish, may be seen by any one. This preparation is extremely pleasant to take and none need suffer while such a miraculous medicament is in existence. Persons of sedentary habits, debilitated females and those on whom the onerous task of life is allowing to fall, should not prevent steadily with this life-reviving tonic for one month, and they will be astonished at its results. All those who have tried other remedies, galvanic and electric appliances, &c., without any beneficial result, are earnestly recommended to make fair trial of this medicine, which, being concocted on the highest scientific principles, invariably gives the utmost satisfaction. Price 11s. and 33s. per bottle, has the words "Walter De Roos, London," printed in white letters on the British Government Stamp by order of Her Majesty's Hon. Commissioners. Sole by Messrs. Treacher & Co., Limited, Bombay, and all the principal merchants in India.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

MONDAY EVENING, 24TH FEB. 1879.

SATURDAY'S commercial telegrams from London do not report a single change in quotations in anything in which we are interested on this side. Consols remain at 96½; French Rentes at 112½; Enfaced Rupee Paper at 75 for Fours, and 81 for Fours-and-a-half; Bar Silver at 50⅝d. per os; and 60 days' sight Exchange on India at 1s. 7¾d. Exchange Bank shares are all quoted the same as on Thursday last. Seeds are reported steady and Coffee firm at previous quotations.

The Liverpool Cotton market on Saturday closed firm, sales 6,000 bales against imports of 9,000, prices unchanged both on the spot and to arrive. We are without the usual New York telegram, (Saturday being a business holiday there in celebration of Washington's birthday) but we learn from private sources that the current week's receipts are expected to be 115,000 bales or over, as compared with the corresponding week last year when the figures were 92,000. and in 1877 when they only reached 65,000, this total it attained could scarcely fail to have an adverse on the market, indicating as it would the strong probability of the crop ultimately reaching close on 5,200,000 bales.

The Bank of Bombay return for the week ending on Saturday shows the following changes :—

Public Deposits at H. O.	Inc. Rs.	10,75,999
Do. Branches	Inc. ,,	2,53,347
Other Deposits	Dec. ,,	14,90,723
Government Securities	Dec. ,,	2,77,286
Cash Credits	Inc. ,,	3,13,132
Loans	Inc. ,,	14 90,937
Bills Discounted	Dec. ,,	5,17,277
Cash with Correspondents	Dec. ,,	3,78,997
Cash and Currency Notes	Dec. ,,	8,04,052

These alterations are unquestionably of an unfavourable character, not so much from the actual reduction in the Cash Balance, which is not large, but from the considerable withdrawals of Deposits and increase in Loans. We may not see any advance in the rate of discount on Wednesday, but we fear dearer money must be expected so soon as business becomes in any marked degree more active.

EXCHANGE continues firm, but the only change in quotations is a partial advance of 1-32d. in bank paper. For private bills rates are unaltered, but the banks are by no means eager buyers notwithstanding the small amount offering. We quote :—

Bank Bills, on demand	...Is. 7 13-32 to 7-16d. per Rs.
Do. 6 months' sight	...Is. 7 25-32d.
Credits, 3 ,, ,,	...Is. 7½. ,,
Documents, 3 ,, ,,	...Is. 7 13-16d. ,,
rence 3 ,, ,,	2-64ths ,,
Sovereigns each ,, ,,	Rs. 12-4 ,,

In Gold we have not heard of anything being done for export, but the price has advanced to Rs. 19 7-6 owing to a local demand.

On Calcutta rates remain at 3-16 per cent premium for demand and 1½ per cent. discount for 60 days' sight.

GOVERNMENT PAPER remains firm but quiet, and we do not hear of any change in rates. Fours, Rs. 94½; New Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 100 to Rs. 100⅝.

SHARES.—The market continues comparatively active and a further very general advance in rates has taken place. Bank of Bombays are 1½ per cent. higher, closing at Rs. 677½; Colaba Land shares have advanced Rs. 15, Bombay, Burmah Trading Co. Rs. 15, Berar Press Rs. 15, and Mofussil Co. Rs. 5. Spinning and Weaving Mill shares are still in favour, and we note a rise of Rs. 30 in Hindustan and Manockjee Petit, Rs. 25 in Bombay United, Morarjee Goculdass and Jewraz Balloo, Rs. 20 in Great Eastern, Rs. 15 in Khutao Mucconjee and Oriental.

COTTON has been decidedly firmer to-day with fewer sellers and more buyers at a partial advance of Re. 1 per candy. Only a very small business has been done for export, and we must have much more liberal arrivals before operations become so extensive as we might expect at this time of year. From up-country accounts are somewhat irregular, but on the whole supplies have not increased during the past three days, and some people now begin to fear that we shall not see liberal arrivals until after the Holi holidays which always restrict business up-country. We quote to-day :—

Good Broach	March delv ..... Rs.	204 per candy
Good Omra	do.	191 ,,
F. G. F. ,,	do.	182 ,,
G. F. ,,	do.	178 ,,

SEEDS continue very firm at previous prices.

FREIGHTS are quiet with no special movements in rates. For Liverpool by steam we quote 23s. 9d. to 25s., and 25s. for all March; by sail 22s. 6d. for iron and 20s. for wooden vessels. The Sicily (s. s.) is reported fixed for Mediterranean ports at 33s. 9d. payable here.

PIECE GOODS are still fairly steady with a moderately good business doing from the bazaar, but from first hands there has been very little done.

COALS are dull at nominal rates, no transactions to arrive having been reported for upwards of a week.

THE BOMBAY VOLUNTEER RIFLE CORPS.

REGIMENTAL ORDERS

BY LIEUT. COL. BERTON, COMMANDANT, B. V. R.

Bombay, 24th February 1879.

1 The Commandant desires to place on record in Regimental Orders the terms in which the Inspecting General Officer was pleased to express himself relative to the state in which he found the Corps on the occasion of his Inspection on Saturday last.

2 Brigadier General Aitchison was pleased to say that on the whole he was well satisfied with what he had seen, that the Regiment had shown much improvement since the last Inspection—that there are as we all know certain Minor matters of detail, in which there is still a good deal to learn, but that there was a distinct improvement in the drill, the appearance and the steadiness of the men under arms, that it will afford him much pleasure to make a favorable report upon the state of the Regiment both to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and to Government, and that in making these reports he would have much pleasure in being able to state that he considers the Bombay Vol Rifle Corps to be in an efficient state for service.

3 Coming from a General Officer of such varied experience as General Aitchison, this is no small praise and the Commandant congratulates the Corps upon meriting such high encomium without the hearty co-operation of all ranks, these results which have led to these commendations could not have been attained, and the Commandant takes this opportunity of thanking the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Members of the Corps for the zeal, assiduity, and self-sacrifice displayed by them in the performance of their self-imposed and onerous duties on this, as on all other occasions.

4 In conclusion the Commandant trusts that the Corps will take to heart the words of encouragement addressed to them by the Inspecting General Officer and accept them not only as a corrective of the small matters of detail in which we are still not quite perfect, but also, as an incentive to greater exertions towards the further development of the knowledge of our duties, drill and discipline which we have already acquired.

5 All Drills and Parades will be discontinued till further ord rs, except for Recruits. There will be drill for Recruits daily at the Town Hall at 5-15 P. M.

6 The Range at Cooria will be reserved for "E" Company on Tuesday the 4th and for "A" Company on Wednesday the 5th March.

7 The undermentioned having joined is taken on the strength and posted to a Company as follows :—

No 870 Vol Braddon, J B, A Company,

The Bombay Gazette.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1879.

MR. MALCOLM MCPHERSON, the special correspondent of the Standard who was recently expelled from General Roberts's camp, has taken his revenge upon the General by writing him a vivacious and telling letter, in which he unbosoms himself of many griefs that he had evidently pent up with difficulty during a three months' campaign. The letter will amuse and interest the public; but, if its object was to excite sympathy for the writer, Mr. McPherson has overshot his mark. Much may be forgiven to a man smarting under a sense of injustice; but, when Mr. McPherson asserts that from the declaration of war up to the evacuation of Khost General Roberts committed a series of prodigious blunders, even "the great "Peiwar victory," as Mr. McPherson sneeringly calls it, falling within this category and being only saved from becoming a great disaster by the General's undeserved luck, people who recognize in the commander of the Kurram Valley column the most brilliantly successful and to all appearance the most capable leader the war has produced will naturally distrust the judgment and temper of the correspondent who pronounces this sweeping censure. We have read most of Mr. McPherson's telegrams and letters in the Standard, and have observed with regret that the writer made the worst of every misadventure that befell the force to which he was attached, and seemed to take a positive pleasure in depreciating General Roberts's abilities and conduct of affairs and in predicting that the campaign must end badly. So marked was this tendency of his correspondence, that the Army and Navy Gazette and other papers supposed Mr. McPherson must have a private grudge against the General, while the Overland Mail, which accepted in good faith all the alarming accounts published in the Standard, vehemently rebuked the Government of India for not sending fresh troops to save from destruction a force "the safety of which," according to General Roberts, was "never for one moment imperilled." It seems to us that the mistake made by Mr. McPherson in this matter arose out of his entire ignorance of the art of war. No campaigns, except perhaps Marlborough's, were ever conducted without a hitch; and the criticisms we now hear on the hazardous nature of General Roberts's strategy in the battle of the Peiwar Pass, and the risk the British troops ran of being beaten, are worth about as much as elaborate demonstrations of the mess General Bonaparte was in at Arcola or his complete defeat at Marengo before Dessaix retrieved the fortunes of the day. It is possible that on more than one occasion General Roberts was over-confident and showed too great contempt for the enemy; but the general success of his campaign shows that this was a fault on the right side, and Mr. McPherson would have strengthened his own case had he been just and generous enough to make this admission instead of dwelling only, with evident delight, on what he believes to have been the General's "errors in the field."

Again, Mr. McPherson commits in his letter a gross breach of good taste and fair play by going out of his way to abuse officers belonging to the head-quarters staff of the Kurram Valley column. As regards the most serious charge brought against him, that he added words to one of his telegrams after General Roberts had countersigned it, he has a good answer to give, and shows clearly that the offence, if offence it can be called, was a venial one. The words added merely contained the information that Yakub Khan was said to have arrived at Jallalabad; and Mr. McPherson added them believing that the General had left the camp, and intending to tell him what he had done at the next halting place. If this is the only telegram Mr. McPherson added words to, everyone will allow that General Roberts should have taken no further notice of the incident after the correspondent had expressed his regret for having been tempted to commit so trivial a fault. But why, being able to give this complete answer to the charge of having acted dishonourably, does Mr. McPherson spoil his case by loudly proclaiming that "he is at least as honourable a man as the "General's advisers on his staff, which consists "of Colonel Villiers, Captain Pretyman, and "other gentlemen who are more or less highly "respected for their attainments?" Anyone who sees the point of this fierce personal rejoinder will form a bad opinion of the writer who can strike such a foul blow. The private character of Colonel Villiers has, of course, nothing to do with the question whether or not the correspondent of the Standard betrayed the confidence placed in his honour by General Roberts; and Mr. McPherson's good genius must have deserted him when he tried to defend himself by casting shameful aspersions on men not concerned in the quarrel. Apparently, however, he regards all the head-quarters staff as his enemies, for he tells a story of a combination on their part to send him to Coventry after copies of the Standard containing his criticisms on the reconnaissance of the 28th of November had reached camp. But we fear that from almost the outset of the campaign Mr. McPherson's relations with the staff of the Force were of a far from friendly character. This is evident from the tone of his letter in which he speaks as if his presence in camp had become well nigh intolerable to himself, and it may help to explain General Roberts's extraordinary sensitiveness to the criticisms of the Standard's correspondent. However hostile these criticisms were, the successful General could well have afforded to overlook them, and the public will expect from the Government an explanation of the real reasons which can be urged in justification of Mr. McPherson's expulsion from the Kurram Valley.

THE world has witnessed many strange epidemics. Some have been disorders of the mind: some have afflicted only the body. Ritualism, dancing, and fasting have been diseases as virulent and infectious as the measles or small-pox. After Byron wrote his poems, the strange disease of hating your neighbour and loving your neighbour's wife spread among all classes of society. This epidemic has not been altogether unknown in India. At the present moment the English public appear to be passing through a visitation of the art mania. It began with the pre-Raphaelite school many years ago. The early pre-Raphaelites were many of them men of undoubted genius and have left an indelible mark on English literature and art. Rosetti, Burne-Jones, and Millais, are names that will occupy a conspicuous place in the bead roll of English art. Morris and Swinburne will take high rank among English poets. Contemporary with the rise of the pre-Raphaelite school was the revival of Gothic architecture in England. Men yielded their judgments captive to the multitudinous seductions of the Gothic art, and forgot that Gothic architecture, though supremely attractive to the painter, ought to be suggestive of many cautions to the architect. The Gothic revival spread to India, and the Architect of the Public Works Department adopted it without first considering whether it was appropriate to the purpose of the building, the climate, and the people. A new school of architects have now arisen in England, who are schismatics from the Gothic church. The Queen Anne craze is a revolt from the Gothic movement. We trust the day is distant when it will find its way to India. Every one is familiar with the comfortable red-brick mellowed house to be found in the main street of an old English country town. It is occupied either by the director, the lawyer, or the opulent old maid. These houses have now been raised into an ideal and a point of departure for a new style, and are fast rising up in Asiatic Bayswater, aristocratic Belgravia, and genteel Kensington. Contemporary with the rise of the Queen Anne craze in architecture, is the modern craze for what is called "Queen Anne furniture." The old substantial furniture of our fathers and the warm carpets which make us forget the severity of winter are relics of barbarism. In order to save our artistic souls alive, we must polish our floors till they are dangerous to walk on, and we must sit on chairs with remarkably thin legs and upright backs which torture the strongest body. It is a poor consolation to be told that it is a Chippendale, Sheraton, or a Hepplewhite chair. Artistic souls are apt to forget that comfort ought to be the chief consideration in the composition of furniture. In dull wintry weather it is not pleasant to live in a house which is painted in dark green blues, and it is annoying to see a whole dinner service hung on the wall instead of being placed in a cupboard. In these houses the unfortunate visitor hears a constant jargon about the beauty of "tone," and the untutored Indian on a year's furlough is asked if he has read Pater the Apostle of the Art. He confesses his ignorance. The book is lent him. A strange device is on the cover, the paper is thick, the print is good, but he finds only words, words, words,—words strung together not according to the ordinary laws of English syntax. The Indian cannot follow "chords of soul" and "tints of sound," and the book affords him no pulsive sensation. He returns it, and honestly confesses he prefers Lamb, Hazlitt and Coleridge. His hostess is not surprised. It was to be expected from a man who habitually ill-treats the natives as the young nobleman who attends her levées in æsthetic scarlet trowsers has informed her.

One of the epidemics of the present age is the scribbling mania, and we regret to find that it has coalesced with the art mania. Of the making of books on art there is no end, and in "The Art at Home Series" the Englishman is taught by a practised or unpractised writer how he ought to furnish his "dining room," his "drawing room," his "bedroom," and
